

Kevin W. Pendley, Esq.

With over 25 years of legal experience, Kevin Pendley has practiced law in Florida since 2007. He holds the highest peer review rating (AV) from Martindale-Hubbell® and began his career as a litigator representing major national and international manufacturing concerns in defense of products liability actions and in insurance defense matters. In 1997, Kevin joined Julie Weatherly at her former law firm based in Atlanta, Georgia, where he consulted with and represented school boards in cases brought under IDEA, Section 504 and the ADA. In 2001, Kevin was appointed as Assistant General Counsel to the Atlanta Independent School System, where he continued to manage special education legal issues. Moving to Florida in 2006, Kevin has continued with his practice focused upon representing school districts and other public and private educational institutions in a variety of education law practice areas, including special education law. Rejoining Julie Weatherly and Resolutions in Special Education, Inc. (RISE) as the Firm's Florida counsel on February 1, 2016, Kevin will continue to represent school boards in IDEA and 504 matters throughout the State of Florida.
